Objective: Students will analyze responsible and safe uses of technology. Students will be able to identify potential hazards associated with technology and apply online personal safety guidelines.

Common Core Tie-In:

- Introduction to Social Health: Course Standards #17, 18
- Introduction to Human Studies: Course Standard #15
- Lifetime Wellness (9-12): Course Standards #5.2 a/b
- Health Education (6-8): Course Standards #10.3, 12.2, 14.8

Supplies Needed:

- Fake Facebook printouts

Directions:

Print out the fake profiles and pass out copies to groups of students.

Say: Social media is something that we often think about as being “private”. However, as you guys well know, nothing online is ever really private. Friends, family, colleges, and employers all look at our presence on social media. Sometimes, people post information or pictures that could be considered a “red flag”. What is a “red flag”?

Allow students to answer.

Say: A “red flag” is any information or pictures that a person posts online that would make a college or employer think twice about selecting them. This can include references to drug and alcohol use, complaining about school or work, or sexually explicit material. Look at the profiles in front of you. I want you to circle things on each profile that would be red flags that the person would be a good or a bad employee. Decide which employee you would hire and we will discuss why you chose who you chose with the whole class.

Alternatively, you could put these on the overhead projector and have the class discuss them together as a whole.

Do you think I should join a frat my first year of college? I don't want to be too busy, but I think it's a great way to make friends!

John Wells Yessss. I love my frat. Parties every night, man!

Blake Vanburen Ha, thanks, John. That's not really what I'm looking for. I just want to find a good group of brothers to hang out with. I'm not going to party too much because I don't want to lose my scholarships.
